

Dixie State University Policy

542 Clubs and Organizations

I. Scope

- 1.1 Recognizing the value of extra-curricular activities of quality in the total collegiate experience, Dixie State University encourages active participation in the many and varied student clubs and organizations on campus.
- 1.2 Student club standards are established according to guidelines for funding, publicity, activity, and membership by the ASDC constitution.
- 1.3 Clubs must have a minimum of 10 individual members in order to maintain official recognition.
- 1.4 A "club constitution" must be submitted to the ASDC council for official recognition by majority vote.
- 1.5 Further information regarding clubs and organizations can be obtained from the director of student activities, or any ASDC council member.

II. Eligibility to Join a Club

- 2.1 Any student registered for at least one credit or more may petition to join a campus club or organization.
- 2.2 Individual club and organization membership guidelines may be restricted by grades, credits, interviews, or other acceptable guidelines (as determined by the ASDC constitution).
- 2.3 Club membership or participation may not be restricted by considerations of age, sex, marital status, religion, ethnic origin, physical capability, and other protected classes.
